Cowichan Tribes Implements Vaccine Mandate

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October 20, 2021

Duncan, BC

The highly contagious Delta variant is resulting in an increase in both the number and severity of COVID cases in the Cowichan Region and across BC. Many of our staff and community are at higher risk of complications if they get COVID. To help keep our community and staff safe, Cowichan Tribes is requiring all staff be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 by December 1.

“Protecting the health and safety of our community has been the driving force for all of our actions related to COVID,” explains Acting Chief, Cindy Daniels. “We especially need to protect our elders, children and vulnerable community members.”

The vaccine mandate is just one of the layers of protection at Cowichan Tribes. Other safety measures include staff wearing face masks and practicing physical distancing as well as staying home and getting tested when feeling unwell, even with mild symptoms.

“We take our job to provide services to our community seriously,” says Daniels. “Our vaccine mandate helps ensure the important services our dedicated staff provide to our community can continue safely and uninterrupted.”
